Profile

- Leading professional in the field of oil spill preparedness and response.
- Over 35 years' oil spill experience extending across five continents.
- Worked closely with industry associations and the IMO in their joint promotion of effective oil spill contingency planning.
- Involvement in either the authorship or review of a wide range of publications representing good practice.

Experience:

Training and Exercises

Managed and delivered in over 450 oil spill training courses or workshops in over 30 countries.

Training includes IMO OPRC level 1, 2 and 3, UK levels 1-5 and a wide variety of specialized courses.

Managed and participated in oil spill simulation exercises in 16 countries.

Consultancy

Represented industry at over 250 international, regional and national oil spill conferences, seminars and workshops across the globe. Includes technical workshops on dispersants, sensitivity mapping, aerial surveillance, in-situ burning, integration of international resources and oil spill claims.

Author or co-author of various Ipieca-IOGP Good Practice Guidelines and Technical Support Documents

Co-author of IMO Guide to the implementation of the OPRC Convention and OPRC-HNS Protocol and IMO Manual on the Assessment of Oil Spill Risk and Preparedness.

Oil spill contingency planning projects and capability reviews in 13 countries.

Spill Response

Ecological and technical response advisor at crude oil and oil products spills in marine and freshwater environments.
